

EXPLORING MEDICAL MISSIONS CONFERENCE

Hosted by the Institute for International Medicine, Research Medical Center
& the UMKC School of Medicine E. Gray Dimond International Medicine Program

May 12-13, 2006

Curry Auditorium

Baptist Lutheran Medical Center

6601 Rockhill Road Kansas City MO 64131

OBJECTIVES ::

- Provide the special knowledge and skills for physicians to successfully practice in the developing world
- Increase understanding of the greatest threats to world health
- Provide diagnostic and therapeutic insights into the common and unique "tropical" diseases of developing countries
- Promote understanding of cross-cultural adaptation and communication
- Increase awareness of those health promotion strategies most effective for developing nations
- Provide practical information on how to incorporate medical missions into professional practice

SYNOPSIS ::

2005 was the year of world disasters. The tsunami in the Indian Ocean, devastating earthquake in Pakistan, and hurricanes in the Gulf are compelling physicians to consider international service like never before. The Exploring Medical Missions Conference will provide physicians and other health professionals the needed knowledge to be successful in international medicine, and will address international health issues, tropical diseases, cross-cultural skills, and health promotion strategies. It will also give physicians an opportunity to network with individuals and organizations that are already active in the field.

KEYNOTE SPEAKERS ::

Gary Morsch, MD, MPH, is President of Heart to Heart International, a relief and development organization.

Tim Myrick, MD, is medical director of the Annoor Sanatorium, in Jordan, Middle East.

Larry Liddle, MD, is medical director of the Oasis Hospital in the United Arab Emirates.

Nicholas Comminellis, MD, MPH, is president of the Institute for International Medicine, & served four years in China and Angola.

Dan Hickey, M.Div., is founder/director of Transformational Journeys, an international service learning organization.
